EDCOR 310

THE SCIENCE OF LEARNING:

An Evidence-Based Approach to Educational Psychology

COURSE WORKBOOK

WHAT'S INSIDE

99 Studies

Three studies a week, with takeaways for teaching and life.

Paper of the Week

One research article, read closely and made sense of.

Class Notes

A page for every class day, built to help you remember.

NAME: _____

EDCOR 310

Table of Contents

GETTING STARTED How to Use This Workbook i Reading an APA Citation ii Example Class Notes iii–iv

WEEK	CLASS NOTES DAY 1	CLASS NOTES DAY 2	99 STUDIES	PAPER OF THE WEEK
Week 1	1	3	–	–
Week 2	5	7	9	10
Week 3	11	13	15	16
Week 4	17	19	21	22
Week 5	23	25	27	28
Week 6	29	31	33	34
Week 7	35	37	39	40
Week 8	41	43	45	46
Week 9	47	49	51	52
Week 10	53	55	57	58
Week 11	59	61	63	64
Week 12	65	67	69	70
Week 13	71	73	75	76

Numbers are page numbers. Class notes are front and back.

Course Synthesis ..... Pg. 77

How to Use This Workbook

This workbook is where you think on paper. It has three kinds of pages. Each one is built to help you understand ideas, remember them, and use them.

CLASS NOTES

EVERY CLASS · FRONT AND BACK

Take notes, write your own quiz questions, and connect what you learned to your life. There's one for each class day.

99 STUDIES

WEEKLY, STARTING WEEK 2

Pick three of the week's nine studies. For each one, write takeaways for teaching, for life, and gospel connections.

PAPER OF THE WEEK

WEEKLY, STARTING WEEK 2

Read one research article closely. Pull out its citation, judge the evidence, and bring it to class for the jigsaw.

You don't need to fill every box

The boxes on the Class Notes pages are tools, and different days call for different tools. Use the ones that help you make sense of the day and leave the rest blank. A page with a few thoughtful answers beats a page full of filler. The example on pages iii–iv shows what that can look like.

Bring it to every class

You'll use it during class, and some days we'll stop and work on one box together.

Two habits do the most for your memory

- The warm-up. Before class starts, write what you remember from last time without looking. Pulling ideas out of memory makes them stick better than rereading.
- The 48-hour check. Two days later, cover the page and see what you can still recall. Then answer your own quiz questions. Coming back after a gap is what makes learning last.

Rate yourself at the end

Each Class Notes page ends with a short self-check: did these notes help you make sense of the ideas, remember them, and grow as a disciple, teacher, and person? Be honest. It's for you.

Your week at a glance

STEP 1	STEP 2	STEP 3	STEP 4
Class Day 1	Class Day 2	Before next week	Bring it back
Warm-up, take notes, then answer one or two After Class prompts.	Same thing on a new page. Before you start, do the 48-hour check for Day 1.	Do the 48-hour check for Day 2, plus that week's 99 Studies and Paper of the Week.	Bring the workbook to class. We'll use your pages in discussion and the jigsaw.

Reading an APA Citation

Every research article has a citation: a short line that tells anyone exactly how to find it. Here's one, broken into its parts. Each Paper of the Week page asks you to find the first four pieces.

❶ Roediger, H. L., III, & Karpicke, J. D. ❷ (2006). ❸ Test-enhanced learning: Taking memory tests improves long-term retention. ❹ Psychological Science, ❺ 17(3), ❻ 249–255. ❼ https://doi.org/10.1111/j.1467-9280.2006.01693.x

❶	Author(s)	Last name, then initials. Put & before the last author. Find it under the title on the first page.
❷	Year	In parentheses, followed by a period. Usually on the first page, near the journal name or in the footer.
❸	Title	Capitalize only the first word, the first word after a colon, and names. Not italic. Top of the first page.
❹	Journal	The journal's name, in italics, with major words capitalized. In the header or footer of the first page.
❺	Volume (issue)	The volume number is italic; the issue number goes in parentheses and isn't italic.
❻	Pages	First and last page of the article, with a dash between them.
❼	DOI	A permanent link to the article. It starts with "10." and is written as https://doi.org/… Look at the top or bottom of the first page.

On your Paper of the Week page, you'll write the author(s), year, title, and journal, then check the box once you've found the DOI. Those pieces, in that order, are the backbone of every APA citation you'll ever write.

Try it: spot the mistakes

This citation for the same article has four mistakes. Circle them.

Roediger, Henry & Karpicke, Jeffrey (2006) Test-Enhanced Learning: Taking Memory Tests Improves Long-Term Retention. Psychological Science, 17(3), 249–255.

Answers: (1) Use initials, not first names: Roediger, H. L., III, & Karpicke, J. D. (2) The year needs a period after it: (2006). (3) The article title should be in sentence case: Test-enhanced learning: Taking memory tests improves long-term retention. (4) The DOI is missing (and the journal name and volume should be italic).

Class Notes EXAMPLE

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: Sept 16

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

schemas = mental frameworks. new stuff sticks when it hooks onto what I know.

assimilation vs. accommodation (?)

Today's objective, in your own words:

Why pulling info out of memory beats rereading it

Messy is fine. A "(?)" means "check this later."

At the end, did I get there? ☑ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

1. Why does rereading feel like it works?

2. What did R & K find after one week?

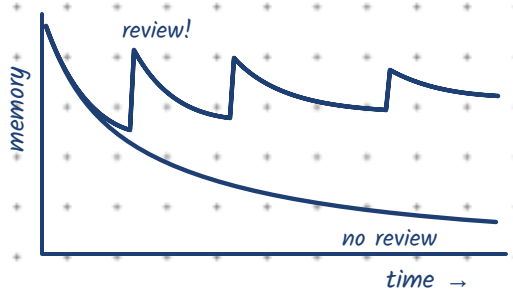

3. Sketch the forgetting curve from memory.

These become your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

Forgetting curve (Ebbinghaus) drops fast, then levels off. Each review flattens it.

Retrieval practice = pulling it OUT, not putting it back in Roediger & Karpicke (2006): study + test beat study + study after a week, even though study + study FELT better → !!

→ "fluency illusion": familiar ≠ learned

Teacher moves:

- brain dumps
- low-stakes quizzes
- exit tickets
- let kids struggle a little before giving the answer

Q: does this work for little kids too? (ask next class)

Sketches count. Draw it if that helps you think.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)
Retrieval practice	pulling info from memory (brain dump, quiz yourself)
Forgetting curve	memory drops fast, then levels off; reviews flatten it
Fluency illusion	it feels easy because it's familiar, not because I know it

Three terms is plenty.

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

Struggling to remember is the part that makes it stick.

An experience from today I want to remember:

The 2-minute brain dump at the start.
I remembered WAY less than I thought.

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

Left blank on purpose. Not every box fits every day.

What's still unclear?

How long should I wait before quizzing myself? Is 2 days the magic number?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ◉ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

Open my practicum lessons with a 3-question warm-up instead of a review lecture.

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first. Date: Sept 18

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

Forgetting curve, R&K, fluency illusion, brain dumps. Blanked on the details of the 1-week result, so I reread that part.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

Honest beats perfect.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	◉ 4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	◉ 4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	◉ 3	4	5

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

99 Studies Frayer Model

Each week, you will have 9 studies to choose from. Select three of those studies. Then fill out the Frayer model below. Study 1 is the first study you chose to read about, Study 2 the second, and so on. You are encouraged to process more than this, but this much processing is required for class. Bring this with you to class, too!

STUDY 1 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 2 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 3 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

Paper of the Week

This organizer helps you make sense of a hard text: a research article in education. You're encouraged to use AI (ChatGPT, Gemini, etc.) to help you understand it, and to read strategically: look at the headings first, skim the abstract, look up the authors. You do need to spend 30 minutes on the reading, and turning this in means you did. Bring it filled out to class for the jigsaw.

THE PAPER

The core pieces of its APA citation, in order (see page ii)

Your name: _____

1. Author(s): _____ 2. Year: _____

3. Title: _____

_____

4. Journal: _____ ☐ I can find the DOI

Methodology (what kind of study is it?): _____

THE EVIDENCE

What did they find, and how much should we trust it?

Statistical significance

Look for: p-value and sample size. What statistical terms show up?

_____

_____

_____

Practical significance

Look for: effect size (and its units), r, R^2, Cohen's d.

_____

_____

_____

Where does this paper sit on the hierarchy of evidence?

Weaker ○——○——○——○——○ Stronger Why? _____

MAKING SENSE

In your own words

Synthesize: Give a very simple summary of this paper.

Speak to how strong the findings are and whether they matter in practice.

_____

_____

_____

_____

Limitations: What are the weak spots?

_____

_____

Implications for teachers:

_____

_____

What questions do I still have?

_____

_____

Vocabulary to look up

Add the definitions once you look them up.

_____

_____

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

99 Studies Frayer Model

Each week, you will have 9 studies to choose from. Select three of those studies. Then fill out the Frayer model below. Study 1 is the first study you chose to read about, Study 2 the second, and so on. You are encouraged to process more than this, but this much processing is required for class. Bring this with you to class, too!

STUDY 1 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 2 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 3 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

Paper of the Week

This organizer helps you make sense of a hard text: a research article in education. You're encouraged to use AI (ChatGPT, Gemini, etc.) to help you understand it, and to read strategically: look at the headings first, skim the abstract, look up the authors. You do need to spend 30 minutes on the reading, and turning this in means you did. Bring it filled out to class for the jigsaw.

THE PAPER

The core pieces of its APA citation, in order (see page ii)

Your name: _____

1. Author(s): _____ 2. Year: _____

3. Title: _____

_____

4. Journal: _____ ☐ I can find the DOI

Methodology (what kind of study is it?): _____

THE EVIDENCE

What did they find, and how much should we trust it?

Statistical significance

Look for: p-value and sample size. What statistical terms show up?

_____

_____

_____

Practical significance

Look for: effect size (and its units), r, R^2, Cohen's d.

_____

_____

_____

Where does this paper sit on the hierarchy of evidence?

Weaker ○——○——○——○——○ Stronger Why? _____

MAKING SENSE

In your own words

Synthesize: Give a very simple summary of this paper.

Speak to how strong the findings are and whether they matter in practice.

_____

_____

_____

_____

Limitations: What are the weak spots?

_____

_____

Implications for teachers:

_____

_____

What questions do I still have?

_____

_____

Vocabulary to look up

Add the definitions once you look them up.

_____

_____

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

99 Studies Frayer Model

Each week, you will have 9 studies to choose from. Select three of those studies. Then fill out the Frayer model below. Study 1 is the first study you chose to read about, Study 2 the second, and so on. You are encouraged to process more than this, but this much processing is required for class. Bring this with you to class, too!

STUDY 1 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 2 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 3 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

Paper of the Week

This organizer helps you make sense of a hard text: a research article in education. You're encouraged to use AI (ChatGPT, Gemini, etc.) to help you understand it, and to read strategically: look at the headings first, skim the abstract, look up the authors. You do need to spend 30 minutes on the reading, and turning this in means you did. Bring it filled out to class for the jigsaw.

THE PAPER

The core pieces of its APA citation, in order (see page ii)

Your name: _____

1. Author(s): _____ 2. Year: _____

3. Title: _____

_____

4. Journal: _____ ☐ I can find the DOI

Methodology (what kind of study is it?): _____

THE EVIDENCE

What did they find, and how much should we trust it?

Statistical significance

Look for: p-value and sample size. What statistical terms show up?

_____

_____

_____

Practical significance

Look for: effect size (and its units), r, R^2, Cohen's d.

_____

_____

_____

Where does this paper sit on the hierarchy of evidence?

Weaker ○——○——○——○——○ Stronger Why? _____

MAKING SENSE

In your own words

Synthesize: Give a very simple summary of this paper.

Speak to how strong the findings are and whether they matter in practice.

_____

_____

_____

_____

Limitations: What are the weak spots?

_____

_____

Implications for teachers:

_____

_____

What questions do I still have?

_____

_____

Vocabulary to look up

Add the definitions once you look them up.

_____

_____

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

99 Studies Frayer Model

Each week, you will have 9 studies to choose from. Select three of those studies. Then fill out the Frayer model below. Study 1 is the first study you chose to read about, Study 2 the second, and so on. You are encouraged to process more than this, but this much processing is required for class. Bring this with you to class, too!

STUDY 1 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 2 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 3 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

Paper of the Week

This organizer helps you make sense of a hard text: a research article in education. You're encouraged to use AI (ChatGPT, Gemini, etc.) to help you understand it, and to read strategically: look at the headings first, skim the abstract, look up the authors. You do need to spend 30 minutes on the reading, and turning this in means you did. Bring it filled out to class for the jigsaw.

THE PAPER

The core pieces of its APA citation, in order (see page ii)

Your name: _____

1. Author(s): _____ 2. Year: _____

3. Title: _____

_____

4. Journal: _____ ☐ I can find the DOI

Methodology (what kind of study is it?): _____

THE EVIDENCE

What did they find, and how much should we trust it?

Statistical significance

Look for: p-value and sample size. What statistical terms show up?

_____

_____

_____

Practical significance

Look for: effect size (and its units), r, R^2, Cohen's d.

_____

_____

_____

Where does this paper sit on the hierarchy of evidence?

Weaker ○——○——○——○——○ Stronger Why? _____

MAKING SENSE

In your own words

Synthesize: Give a very simple summary of this paper.

Speak to how strong the findings are and whether they matter in practice.

_____

_____

_____

_____

Limitations: What are the weak spots?

_____

_____

Implications for teachers:

_____

_____

What questions do I still have?

_____

_____

Vocabulary to look up

Add the definitions once you look them up.

_____

_____

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

99 Studies Frayer Model

Each week, you will have 9 studies to choose from. Select three of those studies. Then fill out the Frayer model below. Study 1 is the first study you chose to read about, Study 2 the second, and so on. You are encouraged to process more than this, but this much processing is required for class. Bring this with you to class, too!

STUDY 1 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 2 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 3 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

Paper of the Week

This organizer helps you make sense of a hard text: a research article in education. You're encouraged to use AI (ChatGPT, Gemini, etc.) to help you understand it, and to read strategically: look at the headings first, skim the abstract, look up the authors. You do need to spend 30 minutes on the reading, and turning this in means you did. Bring it filled out to class for the jigsaw.

THE PAPER

The core pieces of its APA citation, in order (see page ii)

Your name: _____

1. Author(s): _____ 2. Year: _____

3. Title: _____

_____

4. Journal: _____ ☐ I can find the DOI

Methodology (what kind of study is it?): _____

THE EVIDENCE

What did they find, and how much should we trust it?

Statistical significance

Look for: p-value and sample size. What statistical terms show up?

_____

_____

_____

Practical significance

Look for: effect size (and its units), r, R^2, Cohen's d.

_____

_____

_____

Where does this paper sit on the hierarchy of evidence?

Weaker ○——○——○——○——○ Stronger Why? _____

MAKING SENSE

In your own words

Synthesize: Give a very simple summary of this paper.

Speak to how strong the findings are and whether they matter in practice.

_____

_____

_____

_____

Limitations: What are the weak spots?

_____

_____

Implications for teachers:

_____

_____

What questions do I still have?

_____

_____

Vocabulary to look up

Add the definitions once you look them up.

_____

_____

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

99 Studies Frayer Model

Each week, you will have 9 studies to choose from. Select three of those studies. Then fill out the Frayer model below. Study 1 is the first study you chose to read about, Study 2 the second, and so on. You are encouraged to process more than this, but this much processing is required for class. Bring this with you to class, too!

STUDY 1 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 2 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 3 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

Paper of the Week

This organizer helps you make sense of a hard text: a research article in education. You're encouraged to use AI (ChatGPT, Gemini, etc.) to help you understand it, and to read strategically: look at the headings first, skim the abstract, look up the authors. You do need to spend 30 minutes on the reading, and turning this in means you did. Bring it filled out to class for the jigsaw.

THE PAPER

The core pieces of its APA citation, in order (see page ii)

Your name: _____

1. Author(s): _____ 2. Year: _____

3. Title: _____

_____

4. Journal: _____ ☐ I can find the DOI

Methodology (what kind of study is it?): _____

THE EVIDENCE

What did they find, and how much should we trust it?

Statistical significance

Look for: p-value and sample size. What statistical terms show up?

_____

_____

_____

Practical significance

Look for: effect size (and its units), r, R^2, Cohen's d.

_____

_____

_____

Where does this paper sit on the hierarchy of evidence?

Weaker ○——○——○——○——○ Stronger Why? _____

MAKING SENSE

In your own words

Synthesize: Give a very simple summary of this paper.

Speak to how strong the findings are and whether they matter in practice.

_____

_____

_____

_____

Limitations: What are the weak spots?

_____

_____

Implications for teachers:

_____

_____

What questions do I still have?

_____

_____

Vocabulary to look up

Add the definitions once you look them up.

_____

_____

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

99 Studies Frayer Model

Each week, you will have 9 studies to choose from. Select three of those studies. Then fill out the Frayer model below. Study 1 is the first study you chose to read about, Study 2 the second, and so on. You are encouraged to process more than this, but this much processing is required for class. Bring this with you to class, too!

STUDY 1 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 2 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 3 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

Paper of the Week

This organizer helps you make sense of a hard text: a research article in education. You're encouraged to use AI (ChatGPT, Gemini, etc.) to help you understand it, and to read strategically: look at the headings first, skim the abstract, look up the authors. You do need to spend 30 minutes on the reading, and turning this in means you did. Bring it filled out to class for the jigsaw.

THE PAPER

The core pieces of its APA citation, in order (see page ii)

Your name: _____

1. Author(s): _____ 2. Year: _____

3. Title: _____

_____

4. Journal: _____ ☐ I can find the DOI

Methodology (what kind of study is it?): _____

THE EVIDENCE

What did they find, and how much should we trust it?

Statistical significance

Look for: p-value and sample size. What statistical terms show up?

_____

_____

_____

Practical significance

Look for: effect size (and its units), r, R^2, Cohen's d.

_____

_____

_____

Where does this paper sit on the hierarchy of evidence?

Weaker ○——○——○——○——○ Stronger Why? _____

MAKING SENSE

In your own words

Synthesize: Give a very simple summary of this paper.

Speak to how strong the findings are and whether they matter in practice.

_____

_____

_____

_____

Limitations: What are the weak spots?

_____

_____

Implications for teachers:

_____

_____

What questions do I still have?

_____

_____

Vocabulary to look up

Add the definitions once you look them up.

_____

_____

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

99 Studies Frayer Model

Each week, you will have 9 studies to choose from. Select three of those studies. Then fill out the Frayer model below. Study 1 is the first study you chose to read about, Study 2 the second, and so on. You are encouraged to process more than this, but this much processing is required for class. Bring this with you to class, too!

STUDY 1 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 2 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 3 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

Paper of the Week

This organizer helps you make sense of a hard text: a research article in education. You're encouraged to use AI (ChatGPT, Gemini, etc.) to help you understand it, and to read strategically: look at the headings first, skim the abstract, look up the authors. You do need to spend 30 minutes on the reading, and turning this in means you did. Bring it filled out to class for the jigsaw.

THE PAPER

The core pieces of its APA citation, in order (see page ii)

Your name: _____

1. Author(s): _____ 2. Year: _____

3. Title: _____

_____

4. Journal: _____ ☐ I can find the DOI

Methodology (what kind of study is it?): _____

THE EVIDENCE

What did they find, and how much should we trust it?

Statistical significance

Look for: p-value and sample size. What statistical terms show up?

_____

_____

_____

Practical significance

Look for: effect size (and its units), r, R^2, Cohen's d.

_____

_____

_____

Where does this paper sit on the hierarchy of evidence?

Weaker ○——○——○——○——○ Stronger Why? _____

MAKING SENSE

In your own words

Synthesize: Give a very simple summary of this paper.

Speak to how strong the findings are and whether they matter in practice.

_____

_____

_____

_____

Limitations: What are the weak spots?

_____

_____

Implications for teachers:

_____

_____

What questions do I still have?

_____

_____

Vocabulary to look up

Add the definitions once you look them up.

_____

_____

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

99 Studies Frayer Model

Each week, you will have 9 studies to choose from. Select three of those studies. Then fill out the Frayer model below. Study 1 is the first study you chose to read about, Study 2 the second, and so on. You are encouraged to process more than this, but this much processing is required for class. Bring this with you to class, too!

STUDY 1 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 2 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 3 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

Paper of the Week

This organizer helps you make sense of a hard text: a research article in education. You're encouraged to use AI (ChatGPT, Gemini, etc.) to help you understand it, and to read strategically: look at the headings first, skim the abstract, look up the authors. You do need to spend 30 minutes on the reading, and turning this in means you did. Bring it filled out to class for the jigsaw.

THE PAPER

The core pieces of its APA citation, in order (see page ii)

Your name: _____

1. Author(s): _____ 2. Year: _____

3. Title: _____

_____

4. Journal: _____ ☐ I can find the DOI

Methodology (what kind of study is it?): _____

THE EVIDENCE

What did they find, and how much should we trust it?

Statistical significance

Look for: p-value and sample size. What statistical terms show up?

_____

_____

_____

Practical significance

Look for: effect size (and its units), r, R^2, Cohen's d.

_____

_____

_____

Where does this paper sit on the hierarchy of evidence?

Weaker ○——○——○——○——○ Stronger Why? _____

MAKING SENSE

In your own words

Synthesize: Give a very simple summary of this paper.

Speak to how strong the findings are and whether they matter in practice.

_____

_____

_____

_____

Limitations: What are the weak spots?

_____

_____

Implications for teachers:

_____

_____

What questions do I still have?

_____

_____

Vocabulary to look up

Add the definitions once you look them up.

_____

_____

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

99 Studies Frayer Model

Each week, you will have 9 studies to choose from. Select three of those studies. Then fill out the Frayer model below. Study 1 is the first study you chose to read about, Study 2 the second, and so on. You are encouraged to process more than this, but this much processing is required for class. Bring this with you to class, too!

STUDY 1 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 2 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 3 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

Paper of the Week

This organizer helps you make sense of a hard text: a research article in education. You're encouraged to use AI (ChatGPT, Gemini, etc.) to help you understand it, and to read strategically: look at the headings first, skim the abstract, look up the authors. You do need to spend 30 minutes on the reading, and turning this in means you did. Bring it filled out to class for the jigsaw.

THE PAPER

The core pieces of its APA citation, in order (see page ii)

Your name: _____

1. Author(s): _____ 2. Year: _____

3. Title: _____

_____

4. Journal: _____ ☐ I can find the DOI

Methodology (what kind of study is it?): _____

THE EVIDENCE

What did they find, and how much should we trust it?

Statistical significance

Look for: p-value and sample size. What statistical terms show up?

_____

_____

_____

Practical significance

Look for: effect size (and its units), r, R^2, Cohen's d.

_____

_____

_____

Where does this paper sit on the hierarchy of evidence?

Weaker ○——○——○——○——○ Stronger Why? _____

MAKING SENSE

In your own words

Synthesize: Give a very simple summary of this paper.

Speak to how strong the findings are and whether they matter in practice.

_____

_____

_____

_____

Limitations: What are the weak spots?

_____

_____

Implications for teachers:

_____

_____

What questions do I still have?

_____

_____

Vocabulary to look up

Add the definitions once you look them up.

_____

_____

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

99 Studies Frayer Model

Each week, you will have 9 studies to choose from. Select three of those studies. Then fill out the Frayer model below. Study 1 is the first study you chose to read about, Study 2 the second, and so on. You are encouraged to process more than this, but this much processing is required for class. Bring this with you to class, too!

STUDY 1 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 2 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 3 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

Paper of the Week

This organizer helps you make sense of a hard text: a research article in education. You're encouraged to use AI (ChatGPT, Gemini, etc.) to help you understand it, and to read strategically: look at the headings first, skim the abstract, look up the authors. You do need to spend 30 minutes on the reading, and turning this in means you did. Bring it filled out to class for the jigsaw.

THE PAPER

The core pieces of its APA citation, in order (see page ii)

Your name: _____

1. Author(s): _____ 2. Year: _____

3. Title: _____

_____

4. Journal: _____ ☐ I can find the DOI

Methodology (what kind of study is it?): _____

THE EVIDENCE

What did they find, and how much should we trust it?

Statistical significance

Look for: p-value and sample size. What statistical terms show up?

_____

_____

_____

Practical significance

Look for: effect size (and its units), r, R^2, Cohen's d.

_____

_____

_____

Where does this paper sit on the hierarchy of evidence?

Weaker ○——○——○——○——○ Stronger Why? _____

MAKING SENSE

In your own words

Synthesize: Give a very simple summary of this paper.

Speak to how strong the findings are and whether they matter in practice.

_____

_____

_____

_____

Limitations: What are the weak spots?

_____

_____

Implications for teachers:

_____

_____

What questions do I still have?

_____

_____

Vocabulary to look up

Add the definitions once you look them up.

_____

_____

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

Class Notes

Use this page in whatever way helps you learn. It doesn't need to be neat, and you don't have to answer every question. Skip what doesn't fit today. If you only do two things, do the warm-up and the 48-hour check; those do the most for your memory. (See the example at the front of this workbook.)

BEFORE CLASS

First few minutes

Date: _____

Warm-up: Without looking, what do you remember from last class?

Today's objective, in your own words:

At the end, did I get there? ☐ Yes ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet

DURING CLASS

Take notes on the right. Write quiz questions on the left as you go.

Quiz questions I could answer next week

Write 2–3. Answer them during your 48-hour check.

Notes

Write, sketch, map, or draw. Whatever helps you remember.

DURING CLASS

Key terms, people, and ideas I should practice

Term, person, or idea	What it means, in my own words (or an example)

To practice: cover the right column and try to explain each one out loud.

AFTER CLASS

Last few minutes, or tonight

The one idea from today I want to remember forever, in one sentence:

An experience from today I want to remember:

How does today connect to something earlier in the course, or to my own life?

What's still unclear?

Pick just one. Today helped me become a better…

○ disciple ○ teacher ○ leader ○ spouse or partner ○ human

What will I do differently?

48-HOUR CHECK

Two days later. Cover both sides of this page first.

Date: _____

What can I still remember? Then answer my quiz questions from the front.

SELF-CHECK

Rate yourself after the 48-hour check. Be honest; this is for you.

	Not yet				Yes
These notes helped me make sense of today's ideas.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me improve my recall.	1	2	3	4	5
These notes helped me become a better disciple, teacher, leader, or person.	1	2	3	4	5

99 Studies Frayer Model

Each week, you will have 9 studies to choose from. Select three of those studies. Then fill out the Frayer model below. Study 1 is the first study you chose to read about, Study 2 the second, and so on. You are encouraged to process more than this, but this much processing is required for class. Bring this with you to class, too!

STUDY 1 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 2 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

STUDY 3 Title: _____

Key take-aways for teachers:	Implications for life, if applicable?	Gospel connections, if applicable?

Paper of the Week

This organizer helps you make sense of a hard text: a research article in education. You're encouraged to use AI (ChatGPT, Gemini, etc.) to help you understand it, and to read strategically: look at the headings first, skim the abstract, look up the authors. You do need to spend 30 minutes on the reading, and turning this in means you did. Bring it filled out to class for the jigsaw.

THE PAPER

The core pieces of its APA citation, in order (see page ii)

Your name: _____

1. Author(s): _____ 2. Year: _____

3. Title: _____

_____

4. Journal: _____ ☐ I can find the DOI

Methodology (what kind of study is it?): _____

THE EVIDENCE

What did they find, and how much should we trust it?

Statistical significance

Look for: p-value and sample size. What statistical terms show up?

_____

_____

_____

Practical significance

Look for: effect size (and its units), r, R^2, Cohen's d.

_____

_____

_____

Where does this paper sit on the hierarchy of evidence?

Weaker ○——○——○——○——○ Stronger Why? _____

MAKING SENSE

In your own words

Synthesize: Give a very simple summary of this paper.

Speak to how strong the findings are and whether they matter in practice.

_____

_____

_____

_____

Limitations: What are the weak spots?

_____

_____

Implications for teachers:

_____

_____

What questions do I still have?

_____

_____

Vocabulary to look up

Add the definitions once you look them up.

_____

_____

Course Synthesis

You've filled a whole workbook with thinking. This is where you pull it together. Before you write, flip back through your pages: your "remember forever" sentences, your "Pick just one" answers, your self-checks, and your quiz questions. Write in your own words, and take your time.

LOOKING AHEAD

Who am I becoming?

As a disciple, a teacher, a leader, and a person. What's changed in how you see learners, or yourself?

LOOKING OUTWARD

How will I be better because of this class?

Think of specific people and moments: future students, your family, a calling. What will you actually do differently?

LOOKING BACK

What have I learned that I never want to forget?

Choose the few ideas that still matter most to you. For each one, say why it matters and where you'll use it.